PRAYER OF ST. FRANCIS

Lord, make me an instrument of Your peace. Where there is hatred, let me sow love; where there is injury, pardon; where there is doubt, faith; where there is despair, hope; where there is darkness, light; where there is sadness, joy.

O, Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood as to understand; to be loved as to love; For it is in giving that we receive; it is in pardoning that we are pardoned; it is in dying to self that we are born again to eternal life.

In the land encircled by snow mountains You are the source of all happiness and good; All-powerful Chenrezig, Tenzin Gyatso, Please remain until samsara ends.

(6) The final dedication.

Go sum dag pei ge wa gang gyi pa.

All pure virtues that I have done through the three doors,

Kham sum sem chen nam kyi dond du ngo.

I dedicate for the welfare of all sentient beings of the three realms.

Du sum sag pe le drib kun jang ne.

After having purified all karmic obscurations of the three times,

Ku sum dzog pei sang gye nyur thob shog.

May we swiftly achieve the complete Buddhahood of the three bodies.

NINE ROUND BREATHING PRACTICE

First imagine that your body is hollow. You can imagine three channels inside. The central channel is blue, the right channel is white and the left is red. These three channels are side by side, they are hollow, and they join at the bottom. The top openings of the right and left channels are at the right and left nostril. The central channel is narrower at the bottom and becomes wider as it goes up to its opening at the crown of the head.

FIRST THREE BREATHS

The left ring finger blocks the right nostril. Inhale through the left nostril with a long, gentle breath until your lungs are filled. Hold your breath a moment. Then block the left nostril with the ring finger and exhale through the right nostril in a more forceful way. As you breathe, imagine air coming into the left channel and going out of the right channel. Do this three times.

SECOND THREE BREATHS

The right ring finger blocks the left nostril. Inhale slowly and gently through the right nostril and hold your breath a moment. Block your right nostril and exhale a little more forcefully through the left nostril. As you breathe, imagine air coming in the right channel and going out the left channel. Do this three times.

THIRD THREE BREATHS

Breathe in with both nostrils and hold a moment. Exhale through both nostrils. Imagine air coming into the right and left channels and going out the central channel at the crown of the head. Do this three times.

While you are doing each round of breathing, imagine that positive energy, healing and light are coming into the channels as you breathe in, and imagine that negativity, conception and illness are going out as you breathe out. You can also imagine that the channels become free of problems such as shrinking, crookedness or stoppages.
